We need to gather and use information or 'data' about you as part of our service to our membership and to manage our relationship with you. We intend to comply with our legal obligations under the Data Protection Act 2018 (the '2018 Act') and the EU General Data Protection Regulation ('GDPR') in respect of data privacy and security. We have a duty to notify you of the information contained in this policy.

Special Categories of Data we do not hold or process special categories of personal data. Special categories of personal data are types of personal data consisting of information as to:

- your racial or ethnic origin;
- your political opinions;
- your religious or philosophical beliefs;
- your genetic or biometric data;
- your health;
- your sex life and sexual orientation; and
- any criminal convictions and offences.

What personal information do we ask for?

Whether you make an enquiry, request or booking, we will usually ask for name, address, email address and telephone number. If making a booking for travel outside the UK and the airline, ferry or hotel requests it, we will also require your passport number. For all bookings we also require the date of birth for all persons travelling. If you choose to pay by credit/debit card we will also require these details which will be destroyed once payment is taken.

Why we collect it?

We will process your personal data (including special categories of personal data) in accordance with our obligations under the 2018 Act.

We require these details in order to carry out our obligations to you and to provide an effective service, and to arrange travel and other services you are requesting. Also to communicate with you regarding your booking, to notify of any changes to our services, and to provide answers to any of your own queries. We may also need to collect more sensitive personal data such as any medical conditions, disabilities and special requirements dependent on the type of holiday you are booking. We will also use your details to provide you with information about products, services and promotions that may be of interest to you, usually in our twice-yearly brochure, by email or by mailed flyer. This will always be sent to the contact name that made the request/booking.

Will we share or disclose any of this personal information?

We will not share your personal data unless we have to. When making a travel booking, some of the personal data you provide will need to be passed to and processed and stored by relevant third parties, such as airlines, ferries hotels and transport companies to facilitate your booking. Some of these parties may be based outside of the European Economic Area (EEA). Organisations that are based outside of the EEA may not be subject to the same level of controls in regard to data protection as exist within the UK and the EEA. In order for you to travel overseas, we may be required by law to disclose some of your personal data to government bodies or other authorities in the UK and in other countries, such as those responsible for immigration, border control, security and anti-terrorism. For bookings to the United States of America (CITO) please note that in accordance with an International Agreement between the European Union and the United States, we are required to transfer to the US Department of Homeland Security certain travel and reservation data about passengers flying between the European Union and the United States of America.

How do we protect customer information?

All the information you provide us with online is protected by a secure server. Any credit/debit card details will be destroyed once payment is made. We will never share your private details with anyone else, unless as specified above to facilitate your booking.
